Alberta small businesses contribute more GDP per capita than small businesses anywhere in the country. In addition to providing good jobs in our hometowns and neighbourhoods, they inject about $100 billion a year into our economy.

We listened to small business leaders across the province, and used their ideas to create the Alberta Jobs Plan. This included implementing new tax credits, providing training for aspiring entrepreneurs, adding supports for established ones, increasing access to capital and cutting the small business tax.

Together, we are creating new jobs and diversifying Alberta's economy.
